

Sexual Harassment

a presentation by RIEAS

This training helps to sensitize participants to issues surrounding sexually-oriented comments, jokes, materials, and actions in order for them to conduct themselves responsibly, develop a workgroup culture that discourages inappropriate behavior, and respond appropriately when an incident occurs. It is presented in conjunction with an explanation and distribution of the organization's sexual harassment policy by a representative of your organization.

Program Objectives:

- Set standards of what is appropriate behavior between men and women in the workplace
- Develop a sensitivity to the varying responses of individuals in the workgroup to sexually-oriented comments, jokes, materials, or gestures
- Respond in an appropriate manner to early signs of a problem, including where to report incidents of sexual harassment
