

Trauma Response

When tragedy strikes a workplace in the form of serious on-the-job accidents, murder, suicide, death of a coworker, robberies, domestic violence or other assaults on premises, your organization can respond effectively and humanely by using RIEAS' Trauma Response Service.

The total prevention of traumatic incidents in the work site is an unattainable goal. But a timely and organized response by administrators can effectively assist employees to recover emotionally and focus on the important goals of their organization.

TRAUMA RESPONSE SERVICES INCLUDE

- Consultation to managers and administrators on crisis response.
- On-site sessions with affected personnel.
- Handouts to employees giving them information on reactions to traumatic events and healthy coping methods.
- Follow-up sessions, as needed, in the weeks following the event.
- One-on-one consultation and treatment referral for severely affected staff and family members.
- 24-hours/7 days per week emergency on-call coverage.
